Florence - The Lady Chargers suffered a first round knockout at the hands of North Alabama. The Lady Lions rolled out to a huge lead and went on to hand UAH an embarrassing 101-47 on Thursday night. The Lady Chargers fell to 4-19 and 1-8 with the loss, while UNA improved to 16-13 and 8-2.

Monica Boatwright had 20 points to lead UAH. She was one of the bright spots for the Lady Chargers who shot 28% for the game. Boatwright was 5-for-9 with a 3-pointer and 9-for-10 from the freethrow line. Andrea Bennett and scored in double-figures, netting 11 points and grabbing five rebounds.

Brianna Abrams led four players in double-digits with 16 points. Sanqueeta Meardith and Niala Harris each dropped in 15, while Lacy Lewis contributed 10.

UNA blew the game open in the first half, shooting 70% (24-of-34) from the field en route to a 56-20 lead. The Lady Chargers were the direct opposite, struggling mightily in the first 20 minutes hitting only 4-of-19 shots (21%). Things didn't get any better in the second half as UNA ran away and hid.
